MEANING

THE GOOD LIFE

PREMISE

Aristotle distinguished a pleasant life from a flourishing one. Happiness, in his sense, was not merely a feeling but something expressed through how a person lives.

QUESTION

Can someone be happy without living a good life?