MEANING

MORAL LUCK

PREMISE

Two people can make the same reckless decision, but only one may cause serious harm because of circumstances beyond their control.

QUESTION

Should we judge people by what they intended, what they did, or what happened?