NATURAL SCIENCE

ENTROPY

PREMISE

The second law of thermodynamics says that the entropy of an isolated system does not decrease. Yet life creates highly organized structures.

QUESTION

How can increasing complexity exist in a universe governed by increasing entropy?