NATURAL SCIENCE

LIFE

PREMISE

Science has a detailed understanding of many mechanisms that sustain living organisms, but there is no universally accepted account of exactly how non-living chemistry first crossed into life.

QUESTION

What would convince you that you had successfully created life from non-living matter?