NATURAL SCIENCE

EXTINCTION

PREMISE

More than 99% of all species that have ever lived are estimated to be extinct. Extinction is therefore not an exception but a dominant feature of life's history.

QUESTION

If extinction is natural, what exactly are humans trying to preserve when we protect species?