SOCIAL SCIENCE

EQUALITY

FACT

Indonesia's Gini coefficient has remained in the mid-30s in recent World Bank data, meaning income is distributed unequally even as the country has developed substantially.

QUESTION

Is inequality a problem because some people have too little—or because some people have much more?